What a wonderful Annual Holiday Pot Luck we had at Alice's home. As glad as I am we have the Watsonville EAA Building to meet in, it was so very comfortable to gather in a warm, welcoming and decorated home this year!! Many, many thanks Alice for your generous hospitality in inviting all of us to land on your doorstep!! As usual the food was great, the annual White Elephant exchange was a bit rowdy at times with much 'thievery' taking place, wonderful socializing was taking place in all the corners and Alice had put up a great display of items the chapter sells for our own market place! We had come off a bit of a high with all the toys we were able to showcase for KSBW's Share the Holidays program. Big shout-out for everyone who donated toys and for Kay and Laura who put so much into this effort. Now we are back again looking for toys for the 2019 event!!

Question for the chapter. For our January meeting in Salinas, Paula Gail Johnson has offered her home, 24 San Pedro Street, the house next door to where chapter charter member, Dell Hinn, lived. Then I received the notice that AOPA Air Safety is offering a seminar, Peaks to Pavement, at the Embassy Suites Milpitas from 7 to 9 pm on the same evening. If the membership contacts me with the desire to attend the seminar, we can skip the January business meeting and head there. I have attended seminars there before, going early and eating dinner at the Embassy Suites to avoid commuter traffic.

Welcome to 2019 and may we all have a great year with lots of flying!!

Joanne

P.S. Former chapter member Ann Sanchez from Washington state is going to be visiting a mutual friend in Monterey January 15th. If anyone wishes to contact her, please get in touch with me. House phone 831 675-3950 and cell 831 595-1199. Thanks

Secret Revealed (from the editor)

In order to produce Logbooks in a timely fashion, formats and pages from past Logbooks are used and copied. In using this method, sometimes details are overlooked such as who has donated from month to month. For this reason, our donation recognition will be provided at the end of the fiscal year to accurately recognize those that have contributed.

Please contact the newsletter editor if you find inaccuracies and/or omissions in the Logbook. Thank you

Second Saturday in December was quite an unexpected day. The weather was beautiful yet hardly any planes took off or landed at the airport. Theresa, Alice, Carolyn, Joanne and Jeanne came out to help man the 99s' booth. Midway through it looked like it would be a s-l-o-w day so several of the 99s left. Shortly before lunch, Shelley Nabal stopped by the booth to purchase some 99 paraphernalia. She said that her mother, Anna May Park was a 99. She saw our anniversary cookbook and exclaimed that she had the same cookbook and that her mother contributed some recipes for the book. Shelley bought several 99 items and we were thrilled to have had a peak to our past. Here's one of Anna May Park's recipe from our cookbook.

Member Activities

Anna May,

What a wonderful surprise when your daughter stopped by our booth and asked for 99s' paraphernalia. It was a special moment for us to see the past coming to light and to somewhat place a name with a face. Your recipes have been enjoyed by many of us and now we have a chance to know you if even through your daughter. We appreciate your contributions to the 99s and to be out there when the chapter was new.

Take care and best of wishes to you.

EGG PLANT CASSEROLE

1 large egg plant, peeled and cubed
Roll pieces in flour mixed with salt and pepper; then fry in oil until tender.

Remove from pan; then in same pan fry 1 lb ground chuck until browned. Add 1 medium onion, chopped fine, 1 can tomato sauce and 1 can tomato paste.

In a casserole alternate layers of egg plant then meat sauce, sprinkle each meat sauce layer with chopped parsley, paprika and parmesan grated cheese.

For the top of this casserole, beat 4 eggs until light and fluffy, and then pour egg over top and then sprinkle very generously with parmesan cheese. Bake at 350° for 20 minutes.

Share Your Holiday @ KSBW Salinas . Monterey Bay 99s brought more than 99 aviation related gifts to give to children on the Central Coast. Pictured are Laura Barnett, Kimberly Funtilla, Alex Hodgson, Audrianne Taylor, Sue Purvis, Joanne Nissen, (Erin Clark from KSBW anchor), Kay Harmon, and Michael Serasio.

Congratulations to Monterey Bay 99s member Sophia Taylor-Home. She completed her long cross country flight on December 27th!! Route of flight: beginning in Watsonville, to Paso Robles, San Luis Obispo, Oceano, Salinas and back to Watsonville. Sophia stopped in Oceano to have lunch with her flight instructor Claudia Maciel and her two sons! Congratulations, Sophia!!! Not only is Sophia an active member of Monterey Bay 99s, but she was just elected to the position of President of Salinas Pilots Association! We are all so proud of this York School senior!!

Pioneer Hall of Fame Class of 2019 unveiled

DECEMBER 4, 2018 BY GENERAL AVIATION NEWS STAFF

Women in Aviation International (WAI) has selected the 2019 inductees for its International Pioneer Hall of Fame.

These women will be honored at the 30th Annual International Women in Aviation Conference during an induction ceremony and celebration dinner at the Long Beach Convention Center on Saturday, March 16, 2019, from 6-8 p.m.

The 2019 Pioneer Hall of Fame inductees

Leanne Caret

Leanne Caret is executive vice president of The Boeing Company and serves as president and CEO of Boeing Defense, Space and Security unit. She is a member of the Boeing Executive Council.

Throughout her career, Leanne has engaged with industry, government and academic leaders on a wide range of topics and issues related to national defense. She has devoted considerable attention to STEM education and support for veterans and their families; and leadership excellence.

She is executive champion for the Boeing Women in Leadership organization.

Mary Gilda Ross

Mary Golda Ross was the first known Native American female engineer and the first female engineer in the history of Lockheed. She was one of the 40 founding engineers of the renowned and highly secretive Skunk Works project at Lockheed Corporation.

She worked at Lockheed from 1942 until her retirement in 1973, where she was best remembered for her work on aerospace design — including the Agena Rocket program — as well as numerous design concepts for interplanetary space travel, manned and unmanned earth-orbiting flights, and the earliest studies of orbiting satellites for both defense and civilian purposes.

Colleen Cain

The U.S. Coast Guard's First Women Aviators and Aviation-Related Enlisted Women is a group of three officers and six enlisted women who proved women had a place in military aviation and who opened the door for future generations of women to pursue their military aviation dreams. On Jan. 1, 1976, the Coast Guard opened all aviation ratings to women, making aviation service possible for these nine women and others that would follow them.

They include officers Colleen Cain, Vivien Crea, and Janna Lambine and enlisted personnel Erminia Chillon, Andrea Gardner, Dior Lowen Hubbel, Kelly Mogk Larson, Robyn Rogers Norwell, and Elizabeth Uhrig.

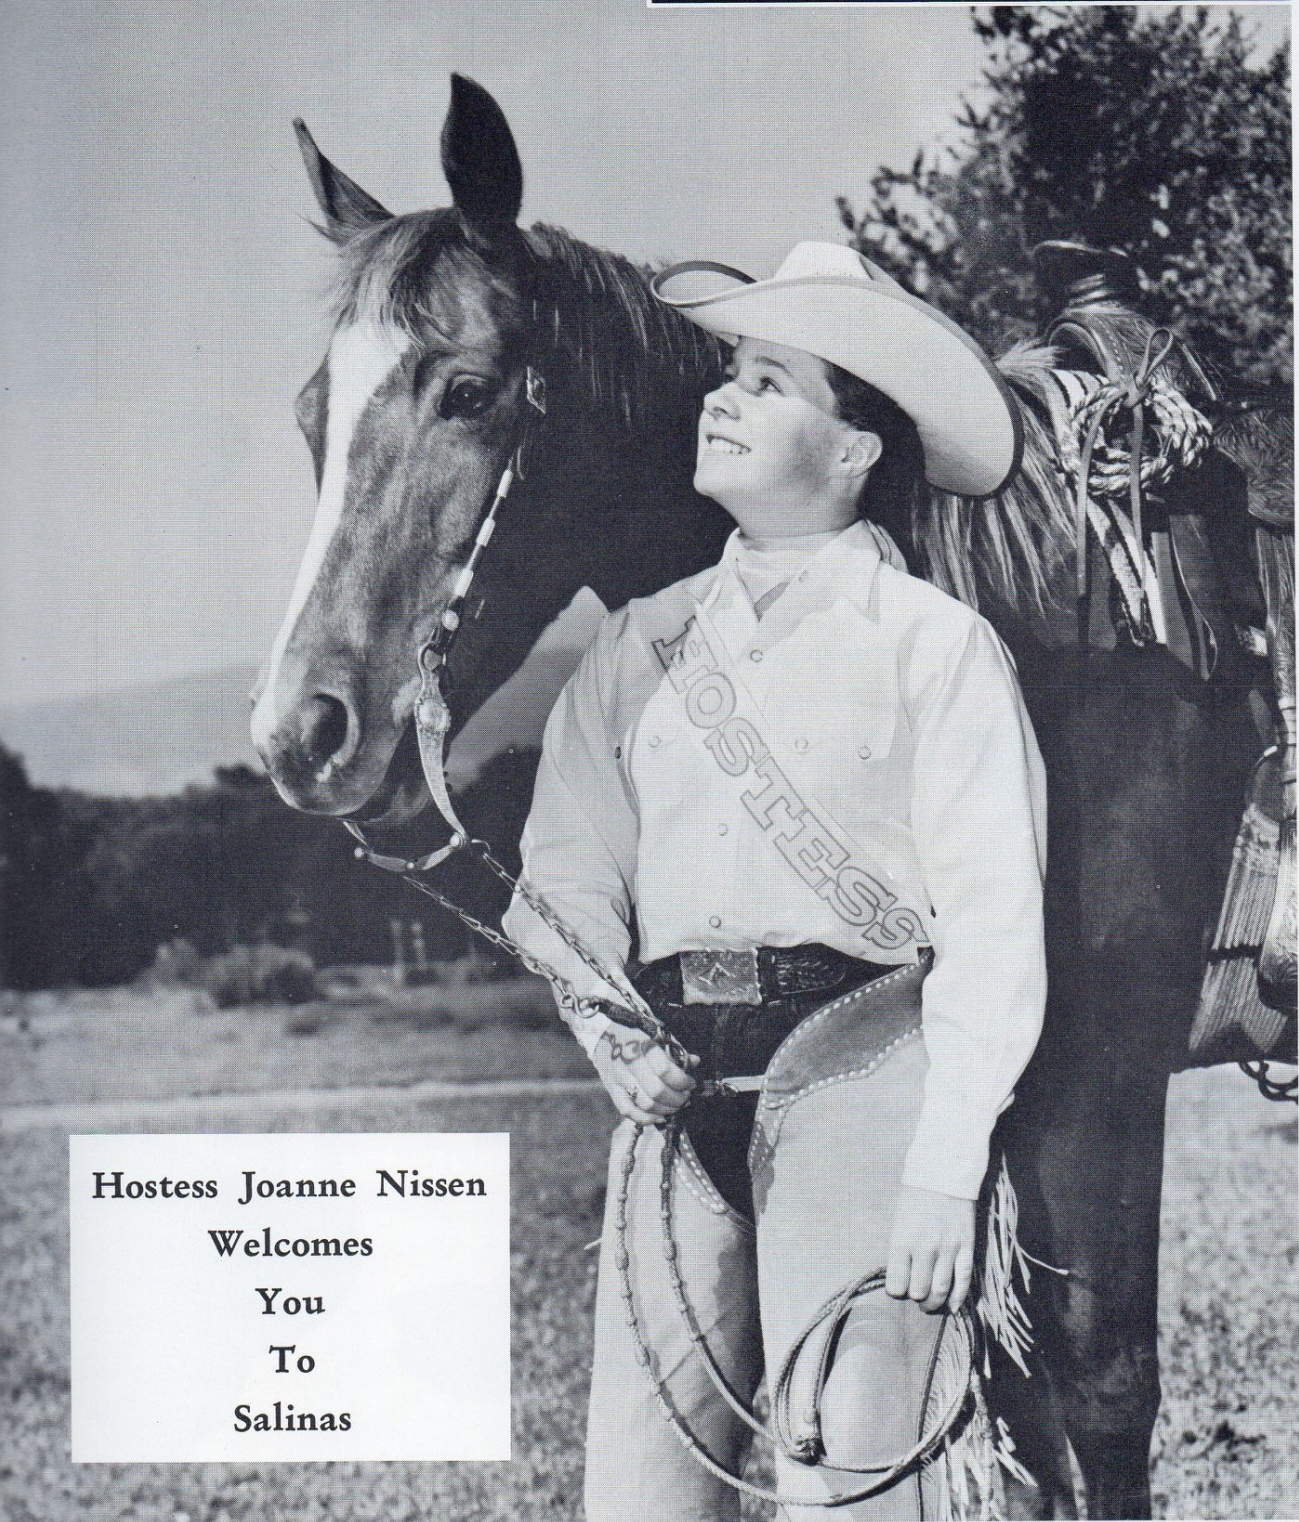

"This year's inductees reflect the diversity of careers enjoyed by our members," says WAI President Dr. Peggy Chabrian. "Our International Pioneer Hall of Fame honors not merely women of great accomplishment, but women who have paved the way for generations to follow."

The Women in Aviation International Pioneer Hall of Fame was established in 1992 to honor women who have made significant contributions as record setters, pioneers, or innovators. Special consideration is given to individuals or groups who have helped other women be successful in aviation or opened doors of opportunity for other women. Each year, the organization solicits nominations from throughout the aviation industry for the WAI Pioneer Hall of Fame.

WOMAN INVENTOR—AN INSPIRATION

Rachel Zimmerman
Inventor of the Blissymbol Printer

In the mid-1980s, a twelve-year old girl developed an invention that greatly helped people who have difficulty communicating. Rachel Zimmerman of Ontario, Canada created a software program using Blissymbols: symbols that enable non-speaking people, such as those with severe physical disabilities like cerebral palsy, to communicate.

The program user communicates by pointing to various symbols on a page or board through the use of a special touch pad. When the user touches the symbols, Zimmerman's "Blissymbol Printer" translates them into a written language. In this way, the user can record his or her thoughts or communicate via e-mail.

Zimmerman's system of communication started out as a project for a school science fair, but it ended up competing at the World Exhibition of Achievement of Young Inventors, winning a silver medal at the Canada-wide contest. The program also won the YTV Television Youth Achievement Award.

Rachel Zimmerman went on to study physics and space studies in college and now works for The Planetary Society in California, where she teaches people about space exploration. She is interested in combining space technology with assistive intelligence. Her goal is to take NASA innovations and tailor them to fit the needs of people with disabilities
